HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
Compound Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla,
—FOR—
Purifying the Blood, removing all diseases arising from Excess of Mercury, Exposure and Impurities in Life, Chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and most effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Scald head, Ulcers, Sore throat and Legs, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Tetter, Pimples on the Face, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin.

is gratifying to the proprietor of these medicines to be able to state that it is now nearly three years since they were first introduced, during which time they have been extensively used in various parts of the United States, and have given patient and practitioner the highest degree of satisfaction in the various cases in which they have been employed; whether in town, country, hospital or private practice, they have invariably given the most decided and unequivocal satisfaction, and effected the most salutary and beneficial effects. Numerous letters have been received from the most distinguished physicians in the country, and the professors of several medical colleges, recommending in the highest terms the value of these medicines as the highest remedies yet discovered, and the superiority over all other preparations for such complaints as the proprietor recommends. Numerous preparations of Sarsaparilla and Buchu, and various modes of preparation have been given, all of which of course differ according to the mode of preparation each individual may adopt.

These medicines require considerable care in preparation, and the employment of different drugs in successive operations to take up the active matters, and, in consequence, are most frequently improperly made, and not unfrequently much impaired, if not rendered totally inert, by injudicious and unskillful management of unacquainted with pharmaceutical preparations. It is, therefore, to the highest considerations and importance to the publics and to the proprietors that there should be standard preparations of uniform strength and possessing the most advantageous form, and are the most active preparations which can be made. Two table spoonfuls of Extract Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water, equalled the Lisbon diet drink, and one bottle is equal in strength to one gallon of Syrup Sarsaparilla or decoction, as usually made.

—PRICES—
Extract Buchu, $1 per bottle, or 6 for $5

A Profitable Walk.

Baron Rothschild sat in his office, counting guineas, and calculating the risk of sundry ventures which had been offered him, when a genteel, handsome young man entered, and requested a loan of two thousand pounds.

"What is the security?" said the baron, without looking up.

"My note," was the reply.

"There must have been something honest in the young man's face, for the baron was evidently pleased with the result of his scrutiny.

"Not into thousand be sufficient, young man?" said he. "Can I lend you ten times as much."

"The will answer my purpose now," said the young man, "and I will borrow."

"Though I do not say I will lend," said the baron, "I can put you in the way of getting even ten times that amount, if you know how to take advantage of your opportunities."

The young man trembled, surprised at the gentle composure of a man who, in money matters had the reputation of being severe. He feared that he was about to propose some doubtful operation, and frowned—"Honorable proposition?"

"I would make no other," said the baron gravely. "Come, we'll take a walk up Cornhill."

Instead of offering his arm to his new acquaintance, he took his, and, thus they promenaded Lombard street. The baron learned the name and business of his companion, and the object for which he wished the money. Hundreds of people met them, and bowing to the great money king, turned to look at, and wonder who could be his companion.

One of the richest and most influential firms of that monied street, stopped to speak with him, and to them the baron introduced his young friend with the remark—"Any favor they could do him would be considered as a personal favor to himself."

Many of these were men, whose wealth and influence was so great that their names commanded the involuntary respect of our whole world. He saw his advantage at once. Arriving at the end of the street, the baron ultimately took leave of him saying—that he could not obtain the money elsewhere, he would come in the afternoon—and with a significant wink he got into his carriage and drove off. Our young friend turned to walk back on Lombard street.

He met one of the men—a very Croesus—to whom he had been introduced by the baron. This person, desirous of cultivating an acquaintance which had such an auspicious introduction, held him in conversation, in the course of which our friend very plumply asked for the loan of £5,000.

The rich man could not refuse—the applicant had been introduced by Rothschild; and as he was good as endorsed by him—another the sum would be doing a favor to the great man. The notes were counted out, and the young man's note taken in exchange. The lender looked at the signer.

He had never heard the name on 'change, but never mind; Rothschild would not have walked arm in arm with him and introduced him, if he had not been perfectly "cool." So with many assurances of distinguished regard, the two parted.

A few steps further the young adventurer met another of his new acquaintances, and while halting with him, he carelessly displayed the bank notes he had just received, and observed that he had a large amount to make up for a certain great opportunity, and was wishing, for private reasons, to apply to a good friend the baron, he would feel obliged if he could lend him £10,000.

The latter, actuated by such auspicious as the other money lender, counted out the desired amount, and took a note with the unknown in exchange, and so the young man went on borrowing from each of his new friends, until he had accumulated £100,000. All this he deposited with Rothschild, reserving only the £2,000 which he originally desired.

The next day there was a great flutter among the rich men on 'change, and many were the conjectures they made to they "compared notes" about the baron's friend. Time flew on, none of the lenders had seen the unknown money lender, and some began to think they had been imposed upon. Inquiries, when just made, each one would suppose other houses of the baron's had sent 000, when lo! it was as soon as wildfire that the baron had been sold, and like wildfire publishers looked for the remaining victims, but in vain; they never came to light. Finding that they had been sold, and wishing to put a stop to the jokes their eccentricities were creating at their expense, they briefly concluded the story:

CHAPTER I.—CONCLUSION.

"After hanging to the treacherous limb for four weeks his pantaloons gave way, and Chas. Melville rolled headlong over the yawning precipice. He fell a distance of five miles, and came down with the usual loss of his back across a stake and riddered fence, which so jarred him that he was obliged to travel to Italy for his health, where he is at present residing. He is engaged in the butchering business, and is the father of seven children!"

AVOID SLANG WORDS.—There is no vulgarity, says the author of the Behavior Book, in a lady to say "snooze" instead of a nap; in calling pantaloons "pants" or gentlemen "gents" in saying of a man whose character is not that he looks seedy," and, in alluding to an amusing anecdote or a diverting incident, to say that is "rich." All slang words are detestable from the lips of ladies. We are always sorry to hear a young lady use such a word as "polking" when she tells of her having engaged in a certain dance, too fashionable not long since, but happily now going out and almost banished from the best society. Queen Victoria has prohibited the polka being danced at her presence. How can a genteel girl bring herself to say, "Last night I was polking with Mr. Bell," or "Mr. Cope came and asked me to polk with him."

We have little tolerance for young ladies who having in reality neither wit nor humor, set up for both, and, having nothing of the right stock to go upon, substitute coarseness and impertinence (not to say impudence), and try to excite laughter and attract the attention of gentlemen by talking slang. Where do they pick it up? Surely not from low companions. We have heard of one of those ladies when her collar chanced to be pinned awry say that it was pinned on drunk, meaning crooked on her head. When disconcerted, she was "floored." When pulverizing to do a thing unwillingly, she was browbeat to do it against her will. Sometimes she "did things in the city." She talked of a certain vocalist "singing like a beast." She believed it very smart and pigtant to use these vile expressions. And yet the was a woman of many good qualities and who boasted of having lived in good society.

CURRANT BUSHES.—Any one can raise a currant bush, but the thing is to raise fine bush. Take young sprouts—last years growth—and remove the eyes from the lower portion of the shoot for about eight inches, which will prevent suckers being thrown up from the roots. Plant in spring or autumn in rich ground. As the roots of the currant do not extend themselves far in search of food, they should be well supplied yearly with rotten manure, dug in with the hoe. The bush should not be allowed to form a thick head, but be kept open. The last years wood should be cut back four or five inches every spring according to extent of growth.

The culture of this excellent fruit is usually much neglected, even in the best gardens. It seems to be the general belief that a currant bush can thrive and produce fruit in any situation and without culture. It will live and bear an apology for fruit, but it is all skin and seeds and nitric acid. Those who have once seen and tasted the products of bushes properly cultivated, will be surprised at the richness and perfection of flavor which this fruit may be made to attain. Plant eight feet apart, treat well and for twenty years your table may be supplied with this cheap and healthful luxury, crowning you really nothing at all.—Prairie Farmer.

Door, Sash and Blind Factory.
A. DUNBAR
HAS been very successful in completing several contracts for Door Frames, Doors, Window Frames and Sashes, and Blinds, for good dwelling-houses and other buildings to be erected in this city, the coming season. He has excellent workmen in his employ, and has superior stock, so that he is now able to supply to those about to build the best articles of Door Frames, Window Frames, Sashes, and Blinds, made to any dimensions and of superior quality, either for a whole building or for a less quantity. The trouble and expense of building is very much lessened by having these articles made separately, so that the carpenter has only to put them in their place in the structure.
This business has now become so well systematized that only a small margin is left in knowing beforehand the cost of a dwelling-house, while the work is of a uniform excellent quality.
Any one interested may examine specimens of the work at the factory, near the Bosse Place, or at the store of M. S. Madison, on Exchange st., and at either place any article may be obtained in large quantities ordered.
M. A. Dunbar is also prepared to furnish Window Blinds ready painted, and will hang them at the shortest notice.
By long experience, and by determined perseverance, the subscriber is now enabled to suit his customers, both in quality and price, and so well organized in the business that no man should now think of building in the old and slow and imperfect methods.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 8, 1856.
Messrs. C. & J. Marshall—Gentlemen: At the request of your Agent in Baltimore, in regard to our opinion and experience of your copper coated spikes, we, without hesitation, say we believe them the best substitute for copper yet introduced, and better fastening for ships, inasmuch as you have the strength of iron with the preservative qualities of copper.
We have used some of your Spikes in old vessels as a substitute for copper, and have had occasion to draw them out a year afterwards, and found them with the coating as firm as when they were driven, and with no appearance of oxidation.
Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) JOHN D. FARDY & BRO.

Sewing Machines,
To Clothiers, Tailors, &c.
NOW IS THE TIME, during the dull season, and before the hurry of business, to introduce the Sewing Machines. An investment of $125 in a Sewing Machine will procure more profit than a much larger sum invested in any other way. Having settled all suits against our Machines, there is not a shadow of claim against them. The Excelsior and Dorcas machines, both infringing our patent, we have prosecuted in the United States Courts, having jury trials in separate Courts, and we have come out triumphantly. The Bangor Journal of yesterday (Wednesday) has a foul-mouthed article, in which it shows us all the epithets ever heard at Bellingerate upon the conductors of this paper, for asserting that the Journal's professions of anti-slavery sentiment are "hypocritical." We shall some repir to abusive epithets like these, from any man. The editor, however, charges us with making assertions as above without citing facts in support of them. We deny this. If charging the Journal with insincerity, hypocrisy and selfish motives in its talk for freedom, we have always cited the broad, glaring and all sufficient "facts"—patent to all men and undeniable—that while professing opposition to the Nebraska measures of Pierce and Douglass, it has acted with and labored for the success of the Pierce and Douglas Nebraska party in this State—fought side by side, and on the same ranks with that party, and largely participated with its leaders in the "opposition." We have called it a "corrupt coalition," because it is a coalition of men professing opposite principles upon the prominent political question of the day. These notorious "facts" are sufficient to warrant all we have said about the Journal, and we have no occasion to trace out the details of its plottings with the enemies of every anti-Nebraska principle. It is enough, and far more than enough, that the Journal, while heretofore professing to believe in the power and duty of Congress to prohibit slavery in the National Territories, has acted throughout with and for the sham democracy which denies any such power, and organizes the only party which proposes to apply the slavery restriction, and that many of the Straight Whig organs themselves, in this and other States, with which the Journal has fellowship, theme vedeny the right or the duty of Congress to interfere. Further then this—the Journal itself has never yet repudiated the Kentucky slaveholders' platform.

Perhaps we should do injustice to the Journal, if we omitted to state that the editor claims to have shown evidence of his devotion to freedom! And what does the reader think the evidence consists of? Why, in the fact that the Journal has labored strenuously for free rum, in the repeal of the prohibitive principle. This is a fact—and so far as it goes, we are willing to allow its full force, and give due credit for sincerity in advocating freedom—but no farther. That a paper is in favor of a practically unrestricted traffic in intoxicating drinks, the free use of which oftentimes enslaves both soul and body, is poor evidence of devotion to the true principles of human freedom

SUBSIDIZED THE FREE PEOPLE OF KANSAS!—At this moment, President Pierce's officials backed by the United States' troops, are engaged, by order of the National Administration and its Southern dictators,—in ARRESTING as FELONS the Free State men of Kansas, who refuse obedience to the infamous enactments of the usurping Border Ruffian Legislature which is recognized and sustained by Pierce and his satellites, as the legal government of that Territory. As a contemporary briefly states the case: The people of Kansas are required to obey the laws enacted by the first Legislature held in that Territory. That Legislature was elected by men from Missouri, who had not the shadow of a residence in Kansas.—More than half of the members of that body were residents of Missouri. Two-thirds of the officers whom they appointed to execute their laws were residents of Missouri. Jones, who was appointed Sheriff of the Lawrence district, held, at the time of his appointment, the office of Postmaster in Missouri, and did not even pretend to be a resident of Kansas. The laws which he was selected to enforce are as brutal as their authors. And yet the actual residents—the people—of Kansas, are expected to submit to those laws and to recognize the official character of those appointed to administer them. But they are all a fraud, from beginning to end, and are not more entitled to respect than a Russian ukase. Usurpation, in a Republican Government, can create no legal power, and the laws of the usurping Legislature should be at once repudiated and set aside by Congress. They should be thus repudiated in a moment, were it not for the pro-slavery majority still retained in the aristocratic Senate—a majority which, thank heaven, the people are rapidly diminishing.

Meantime, however, Kansas lies at the mercy of a pro-slavery administration, and the first duty of the people is to set that aside

A DISASTROUS MONTH.—The month of April will long be memorable for its disastrous conflagrations. So far as we have information, there occurred during this period thirty-two fires where the loss exceeded $10,000 in each instance, (if not in all of which originated in manufacturing establishments,) and the aggregate loss resulting reaches the enormous aggregate of $1 847,000. A fire at Galena destroyed property to the value of $300,000, one at Baltimore, at $170,000, one at Philadelphia, $350,000, one at Boston, $200,000, and one at Nashville, Tennessee, $200 000

The month of May commenced with a conflagration at Philadelphia which destroyed property to the amount of nearly $1,000,000.

The Republicans in the Second Congressional District chose Mark H Dunnell of Norway, T. A. D Fessenden of Auburn, Jonathan Ross of New Sharon, as Delegates to the Philadelphia Convention. The meeting was at Lewiston on Tuesday.

At the drill of the Fire Department, on Monday, water was carried in line, by three engines, a distance of 2100 feet—from the reservoir on Centre Street at the foot of Somerset St to a point near the residence of Nathaniel Hollow, Esq.

License to sell liquor, under the new law, was granted to Messenger Fisher, by the Mayor and Aldermen of this city on the 5th inst. No other licenses were granted. The law requires that no person at least shall be licensed in each place—the tavern keeper being allowed to sell without license. Liquor, as very freely sold, however, all over the city; and it is generally felt that the new law will be powerless to prevent it, even with the most rigorous execution.

Mr Fisher, who has been licensed, was the only Agent under the former law.

Gen. Lane of Kansas, in his recent speech before the Indiana People's Convention, said there were more settlers in Kansas now, from the State of Indiana, than from any other State in the Union—more than from New York, Massachusetts and all the other New England States combined. Of the eighty members composing the present Legislature of Kansas, thirty-four came from Indiana. Col. Lane states the population of Kansas as being 70,000.

GAMBLING COST OUT.—A case was decided in the Superior Court, at Buffalo, on Thursday last, in which the assignees of an estate brought a suit against a gambler for an account of money won from the testator at faro and other games. The jury brought in a verdict of $1500 for complainant.

FAMINE AT THE CAPE DE VERDE ISLANDS.—An appeal is again made to the benevolent people of the United States to rescue from the jaws of famine thousands of fellow creatures. The inhabitants of the Cape de Verde Islands (especially those inhabiting the islands of San Antonio, San Nicolas, San Vicente and Sal) have been again visited by one of those dreadful dispensations which in former years more than decimated the entire population. There are 120,000 inhabitants on these islands, and their crops have almost entirely failed for three consecutive seasons Six thousand of them have already perished, and, as reported by a letter from an U S naval officer lately on the station, the famishing people are fleeing to St. Jago, the most productive island of the group, to save themselves, if possible, from the grasp of the gaunt destroyer. The Portuguese Governor, who is a most respected and noble-hearted man, and who has done everything in his power to avert the existing calamity states that unless relief is sent to the Verdeans before July next, twenty thousand persons will starve to death during the remainder of the year!

In a recent letter Lieut. Washington A Bartlett, late first Lieut of U S ship Jamestown, states that at a moderate calculation three people aged to have sent them gratuitously—for they have now become too much impoverished to buy—at least half rations for 40,000 to 50,000 people for five months, or 25,000 rations of breadstuffs for one hundred and fifty days—1st July to 1st December. This will require nine hundred and thirty-seven tons of breadstuffs, and how easily it can be sent from our ports. Some little relief has already been sent through the agency of Hon J L O'Sullivan, U S Minister to Portugal,—and Chas L Brown, Esq, U S Consul at Teneriffe, but scarcely sufficient to relieve for an hour the extended and widely increasing suffering.

"The famine is continuing, and the crisis at hand is so dreadful in its consequences that the noble Governor does not let the truth be known to his already dying people, for fear of more terrible consequences. But time is yet time for us, as a people, to do something, aye, much—for these poor islanders, and I believe that the appeal will be heard, and that ours of our abundant stores grain and flour and bread will be sent, and that quickly.

I dare to offer my mite to the general contribution, and to tender one hundred bushels of corn to the first ship that will take it to the islands, and request my friend, Mr. Wolfe, President of the New York Corn Exchange, to supply it, will put up for shipping, and to ship it (if a vessel offers) to Porto Grande, Isle St Vincents, care of Antonio Joaquim Martens, United States Vice Consul, for public distribution on the island of San Antonio, together with any other contributions which may offer. (On my own contribution I will pay the freight and trust others will do the same—for to be effective it must arrive at the point of need.) And I further offer, in this emergency, to take the command of any substantial vessel that may be loaded with breadstuffs for distribution at the Cape de Verde, and at my own charge to find means of officering, manning, and navigating this vessel of mercy to the Cape de Verde and back; and to sail the moment such vessel can be loaded. I trust this appeal will be heard—that it will be noticed by the press of the country, that our New York merchants and citizens generally throughout the country will sustain my call.

Kansas Correspondence of The Atlas.

TOPEKA, April 1856

Mr. Editor —The thousand wrongs suffered by the people of Kansas—though they cut to the quick here—cannot be told to the friends of justice far away. The leading outrages are known well understood, but the petty insults, injuries and annoyances heaped upon us, are not thought of by our friends. These not only make our position in Kansas more irksome, but by them the people of Missouri and of the South opposed to us hope to be able to worry us out of Kansas. The pro-slavery Clerk of Douglass County, so called, and Clerk of the County Court, wrote to his friends, "that the office was but a nominal one; that the free State people would not sue—nor recognize the Courts of the Territory, and being in a large majority throughout the Territory, the same was the case everywhere."

The officers of the bogus Legislature are now the present time making great efforts to make the people understand that there is such thing as a Territorial law and Territorial officers Their endeavors to collect a tax having proved futile, they take occasion, when they can get a victim, to squeeze out of him all that their tender consciences will permit. In these proceedings were not the results of fearful machinations in high places, and countenanced by high authority, they would afford a good land of amusement to us—as it is, we see and hear something daily that starts our risibilities, and then by somewhat for the shock upon our moral and social sensibilities They try men before the Territorial Courts for high treason, for having participated in the Lawrence war, and for acting as State officers or members of our General Assembly—it is understood that indictments will be made out against the members of the Legislature not yet arrested, at the next Court at Lecompton, for treason! They are perhaps, to make decisions without any regard even to their own laws or to justice, they are perhaps, not to blame for not rendering decisions on law, as the man in Kansas is lucky who has seen a copy of them A free State man may well consider himself from the expense of defending himself—it will avail him nothing. They are assessing for the purpose of taxing all kinds of property—a new feature in a territorial government.

The people of Kansas stand on their inherent and vested rights. Although the utmost forbearance and prudence has thus far been used by our officers, who for the purpose of drawing them on to an attack, the elements of strife are so much diffused through the State, that it would cause no surprise should some burst of popular indignation, some exercise of a prisoner arrested under the bogus laws, to keep him from witnessing against a murderer—as in the Lawrence war—set on fire the "Blue Lodges over the Border," and a bloody contest take place. We look to Congress and to the people of the North for redress and relief—we have appealed in vain to Franklin Pierce—no feeling of sympathy, no sense of duty is allowed to intervene between him and the goal for which he aims. All the officials in the Territory understand what is expected of them—if they lisp a word for Kansas rights, "that moment they are"—disappointed.

Among the candidates for U. S. Senator in place of Mr. Toucey, of Connecticut, to whom the people have given "leave to withdraw," are the Hon. Roger S. Baldwin of New Haven, the Hon. James Dixon of Hartford, and the Hon. Francis Gillette. The Legislature met on Wednesday.

SUICIDE.—Mr. Phineas Jones, a respectable farmer of Farmingfield, committed suicide on Sunday, 20th inst., by hanging himself. He was about 70 years of age.

I'M ALMOST HOME.—A traveller, weary and worn, covered with dust and suffering from many privations, sees in the distance the curling smoke ascending from his homestead, and choked with feelings almost too big for utterance, exclaims, while tears of joy are rolling down his cheeks, "I'M ALMOST HOME!"

The playful child having wandered from its fond parents, trembles for fear of approaching danger as darkness gathers around its footsteps, yet as it sees some well known object, shakes its curling locks and claps its glad hands, exclaiming—"I'M ALMOST HOME!"

The mariner, after a long and toilsome journey, descries on the far distance, the outline coast of his native land, and sings aloud with joy, while his heart is full to breaking—"I'M ALMOST HOME!"

The christian, after having fought many hard battles, endured many trials, resisted many temptations, suffered from many afflictions and grieved over many shortcomings, feels gradually approaching the hand of disease, and being admonished thereby of his speedy dissolution, lifts his glad eye heaven ward, while his heart melts within him, as he exclaims in triumph—"I'M ALMOST HOME!"

THE LONG SESSION.—After a session of ordinary length, (about one hundred days,) the legislature of Maine has adjourned. Belfast Journal

"Ordinary length," eh? Well, it so happens that during the thirty-six years of Maine's existence as a State, only three legislatures prior to this, have extended their sessions to one hundred days, and those extreme lengths were caused by the extra job of apportioning the State into Congressional and Legislative districts, or in the fixing of the State valuation, none of which little matters had to be attended to by the honorable body lately in session

The Belfast Journal says "about one hundred days Why not say exactly "one hundred"—1 and two 0 s, for that is the plain truth—Besides the extra length of the session, there was never a Legislature so extravagant and wasteful of the public money—TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND dollars, at least, were recklessly expended by a party majority, and that, too, from a lean and almost exhausted treasury!—Ken Journal

"Nor is this the only instance of getting up a reputation in the Senate by the learning of others. An amusing instance of this sort occurred no longer ago than Wednesday last, when Mr. Jones of Iowa, made his maiden speech, which he was allowed to make, in reply to Mr Hunter's speech, entirely out of order, but inasmuch as it was his maiden speech, and he wanted to make it then, the Senate graciously granted his request. The Hon Senator got on very well with reading the speech at first, but soon it was apparent he could not read his own hand writing. The manuscript was very bad, and at times the Senator was quite unable to make out what it was This occurring so often, excited the surprise of Senators, when soon it was whispered about that the speech was not his own, but the Rev Mr Davis's the Senate Chaplain from Iowa, who was brought here by Mr Jones, probably to do him this very service. The Senate Chaplain stood behind the chair of the President of the Senate, in great trepidation at the manner in which Mr. Senator Jones was getting on with his speech

One of the Senators who was let into the secret of the paternity of this speech, went behind the chair of the President, and coming up to the Rev clergyman, said to him "How is it, Mr Davis, you allow your Senator and friend to make himself so supremely ridiculous by such a speech as he is now delivering"—The Rev. Chaplain reddened up to his hair, stammered out—"What have I to do with, Mr Jones's speech! I don't see him very often."

COLD BLOODED MURDER OF A KANSAS EMIGRANT—DEATH OF HIS WIFE. We learned on Saturday of the murder of Mr. Alfred Wilbur, of Illinois and son of Mr. Jeptha Wilbur, of Avon, Livingston Co, who was on his way with his family, consisting of a wife and child ren, to the Territory of Kansas, where he designed settling.

It appears that Mr Wilbur was traveling upon the cars, and was free in communicating the purpose of his journey He had in his possession two of Sharp's rifles. At a station, the name of which has not been ascertained, he stepped from the cars and the opportunity was seized by some person or persons as yet unknown, to murder him The fact became known to a few of the passengers, and one of them, soon after the cars started, informed Mrs Wilbur of the tragical fate of her husband.—She became almost frantic, and besought the conductor to stop, but he refused, and in her excitement she jumped from the train while under fast motion, and was almost instantly killed.

This sad occurrence is said to have taken place about three weeks since, and the father of the murdered man started two weeks ago to ascertain more fully the circumstances, and look after the children thus suddenly made orphans —Rochester Democrat

Louisville, Ky, with all the advantages of Cincinnati, says that of Free Soil, is fading away under the blight of a Slave country—There are fifty five vacant tenements on Main street alone, and the merchants, alarmed at the exposure of ruinous trades made by the newspapers, have held a meeting, and formally requested the newspapers to discontinue the discussion of the prosperity of the city.

A DIG AT THE COURIER.—The Journal of Saturday says

"Show us the man who would publish patiently laws which prohibit him from writing, printing or even thinking upon the subject of slavery, and who would consent to be excluded from the jury box because he does not consider slavery a divine institution, and we will point to as abject a slave as was ever blessed beyond his merit with the rich gift of freedom. Such a man is not fit to live in a free country."—Boston Atlas.

There are, in Boston, five Agricultural Warehouses, doing an aggregate annual business of two and a half millions of dollars. At these were sold last year no less than 36,850 ploughs, 5,815 cultivators, 93,000 shovels, 50,000 hoes, 60,000 forks, 138,600 rakes, 45,500 scythes, 32,000 axes, 6,750 wheelbarrows, 21,900 hay-cutters; 12,165 corn shellers, 5,100 grain cradles

A New Hampshire paper in noticing the new liquor law in this State, says

"There is one queer provision, that travellers and strangers shall only have the liberty to drink at hotels. The wise legislators probably intended it, as all the law apparently is, a burlesque upon the book which says, —"I was a stranger and ye took me in."

SLIDING AND WITHDRAWING. There is all the difference in the world in point of criminality between sliding and withdrawing. When it was said that Mr. Banks had declared that, in a certain contingency, he would "let the Union slide," the whole South was struck with horror, and the declaration was proclaimed little short of treason. But when Mr. Benjamin says that in an opposite contingency the southern States would "calmly and resolutely withdraw from the Union," the sentiments call forth compliments and praise from Olden and the other supporters of the Union.

I'M ALMOST HOME.—A traveller, weary and worn, covered with dust and suffering from many privations, sees in the distance the curling smoke ascending from his homestead, and choked with feelings almost too big for utterance, exclaims, while tears of joy are rolling down his cheeks, "I'M ALMOST HOME!"

The playful child having wandered from its fond parents, trembles for fear of approaching danger as darkness gathers around its footsteps, yet as it sees some well known object, shakes its curling locks and claps its glad hands, exclaiming—"I'M ALMOST HOME!"

The mariner, after a long and toilsome journey, descries on the far distance, the outline coast of his native land, and sings aloud with joy, while his heart is full to breaking—"I'M ALMOST HOME!"

The christian, after having fought many hard battles, endured many trials, resisted many temptations, suffered from many afflictions and grieved over many shortcomings, feels gradually approaching the hand of disease, and being admonished thereby of his speedy dissolution, lifts his glad eye heaven ward, while his heart melts within him, as he exclaims in triumph—"I'M ALMOST HOME!"

THE LONG SESSION.—After a session of ordinary length, (about one hundred days,) the legislature of Maine has adjourned. Belfast Journal

"Ordinary length," eh? Well, it so happens that during the thirty-six years of Maine's existence as a State, only three legislatures prior to this, have extended their sessions to one hundred days, and those extreme lengths were caused by the extra job of apportioning the State into Congressional and Legislative districts, or in the fixing of the State valuation, none of which little matters had to be attended to by the honorable body lately in session

The Belfast Journal says "about one hundred days Why not say exactly "one hundred"—1 and two 0 s, for that is the plain truth—Besides the extra length of the session, there was never a Legislature so extravagant and wasteful of the public money—TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND dollars, at least, were recklessly expended by a party majority, and that, too, from a lean and almost exhausted treasury!—Ken Journal

"Nor is this the only instance of getting up a reputation in the Senate by the learning of others. An amusing instance of this sort occurred no longer ago than Wednesday last, when Mr. Jones of Iowa, made his maiden speech, which he was allowed to make, in reply to Mr Hunter's speech, entirely out of order, but inasmuch as it was his maiden speech, and he wanted to make it then, the Senate graciously granted his request. The Hon Senator got on very well with reading the speech at first, but soon it was apparent he could not read his own hand writing. The manuscript was very bad, and at times the Senator was quite unable to make out what it was This occurring so often, excited the surprise of Senators, when soon it was whispered about that the speech was not his own, but the Rev Mr Davis's the Senate Chaplain from Iowa, who was brought here by Mr Jones, probably to do him this very service. The Senate Chaplain stood behind the chair of the President of the Senate, in great trepidation at the manner in which Mr. Senator Jones was getting on with his speech

One of the Senators who was let into the secret of the paternity of this speech, went behind the chair of the President, and coming up to the Rev clergyman, said to him "How is it, Mr Davis, you allow your Senator and friend to make himself so supremely ridiculous by such a speech as he is now delivering"—The Rev. Chaplain reddened up to his hair, stammered out—"What have I to do with, Mr Jones's speech! I don't see him very often."

TO GET HORSES OUT OF A FIRE. The great difficulty of getting horses from a stable where surrounding buildings are in a state of conflagration, is well known, and that in consequence of such difficulty, arising from the animal's dread of stirring from the scene of destruction, many valuable horses have perished in the flames A gentleman whose horses have been in great peril from such a cause, having in vain tried to save them, hit upon the experiment of having them harnessed although they were going to bed as usual, when, to his astonishment, they were led from the stable without difficulty.

TELEGRAPHIC

TO THE DAILY WHIG AND COURIER

LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE

North America,

AT QUEBEC.

QUEBEC, May 7th.
The Canadian steamship North America arrived at this port at 6 P. M. to-day, bringing Liverpool dates to the 23d instant—four days later than received by the Persia.
The steamship Canada from Boston had arrived out.
The following is from the supplementary report of the Liverpool Courier, dated Wednesday, April 23d:

LATEST TELEGRAPHIC INTELLIGENCE.—Russia.—The Militia is disbanded; the Admiralty has ordered all the light houses to be lighted, and all the buoys to be laid down in the gulfs of Bothnia and Finland, and in the Baltic and White seas.

London, Tuesday Evening, April 22d. The Globe states that Lord Clarendon has declined the honor of a marquisate offered to him by Her Majesty.
The French army is being placed on a peace footing.
The Times has a leader on the grandeur of the naval review, which was to take place at Spithead on the day the steamer sailed. There were to be 240 steamers of various sizes, carrying 3002 guns, propelled by 80,761 horse power, and manned by 50,000 seamen.

France.

Paris, Monday Evening. Trade is improving. The accounts from the industrial districts are favorable. In corn there is little variation, but the general tendency is downward. In the provinces the markets were abundantly supplied with wheat. At Marseilles wheat tended upwards.
At the Corps Legislatif on Friday, M. de Lamartine made a remarkable speech on the question of the elective franchise. He denounced the Court of Cassation as an accomplice with the government to render universal suffrage a mockery, and called for an alteration in the law on the monster subject.
The French Provincial papers speak of an inundation in many parts, caused by the late heavy rains.
By a decree lately passed, iron knees and pieces of bent iron for ship building, are admitted duty free.

Austria.

Vienna, April 19. By telegraph despatches we learn that the King of Prussia ratified the treaty of peace on Friday last, and that the Turkish ratification left Constantinople on the 18th inst.

Crimea.

Letters from the camp have been received to the 8th of April.
The preparations for the departure of the army continued active. A Despatch from Genl. Canrobert, dated Sebastopol, April 18th is as follows: "Yesterday I reviewed the entire army of the Crimea. Generals, officers and a considerable number of Russian officers, Gen. Codrington, and De La Marmora were present at the military fete."
The epidemic has ceased in the Crimea.
The London Gazette contains despatches from Gen. Codrington, dated the 7th and 8th inst., containing enclosures of the 6th.
Gen Codrington forwards a letter from Prince Bebutoff who was at Tiflis, showing that Gen. Williams had recovered, and was forwarded from Tiflis to near Moscow, so that it was not necessary for Dr. McIlbrae to go to Tiflis, nor did the Russians seem to desire that he should pass their lines.
The armistice was established in Asia.
The last mail from the East states that the insurgents against the Porte in Arabia, have suffered so much from desertions, as almost to put down the insurrection. Reports affirm that 13,000 have died out of an insurgent tribe of 45,000.

England.

In the House of Lords on Monday, upon the Church bill, a second reading was moved by the Lord Chancellor. The House divided upon the motion, when those opposed for the second reading 33 against 41 being a majority of 8 against the govt.
In the House of Commons on Monday, a conversation took place on the subject of the peace rejoicings.
Mr Roebuck inquired what was to pay the expenses of the contemplated exhibition of fire works in the Parks.
The Chancellor of the Exchequer replied that his consent had been given to the expense, which should come within £800.
Sir George Grey in reply to Lord J. Manners, said that notwithstanding the display of fireworks and other demonstrations, it would still be open to parliament on the question of the terms of peace to impeach the government, if it was thought necessary. The military inquiry into the Kertch report continued. The principal witness examined was Sir. Lyons.
It is said that the Earl of Elgin having refused the appointment of Governor of Victoria, the important appointment had been offered to Mr Oliphant, his private Secretary in Canada.

Russia.

St Petersburg, April 21st. Count Orloff has been appointed President of the Council of State.
The government has sanctioned the exportation from Russia and Poland of sheep skins, meat, oxen, horses, hogs, brandy, spirits, rapeseed and hay.

Turkey.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times says the treaty of peace with Russia contains a clause that the Allies shall evacuate the Ottoman territory on the exchange of ratifications, and that the evacuation shall take place as soon after as possible.
A letter from Constantinople states that Omar Pacha's army will be formed into movable columns, who would scour the country and enforce the execution of the new laws.
A letter from Vienna states that the commission for the organization of the Principalities, will commence its labors in the course of this month.

Liverpool Markets.

Liverpool Tuesday evening. A newspaper report says that in consequence of the advices by the Canada, the western market opened on Monday with increased animation, and a general advance of one ½ of a penny per pound was realized. The same authority says the decline which we have noticed for some weeks in the corn market still continues, and the fine favorable weather which prevails throughout the country, is likely to operate further.
At London, however, the supply was moderate, prices generally being the same as on the previous Monday. Flour, however, declined a shilling per sack and no sale.
There was a numerous attendance of buyers at our corn exchange this morning. Foreign wheat was in good request, and a fair amount of sales were effected to consumers at the full prices of this day. All good qualities of mill flour were in demand at an improvement of 6d a 1s, while sack flour remained at previous rates.
Liverpool Produce.—There continues a better feeling for Sugar. The tea market is steady at Manchester. Higher prices are again asked and business is limited in consequence.

Glasgow Iron Masket—The strike of the operatives at Glasgow, has been settled. There was an active movement in the pig iron market, excited by very favorable reports returning before immediately by the fact, that ad miners had fallen out upon a questions of wages
Consols closed on Tuesday at 93¾ for money, and 93⅞ till May. The final payment on account of the Crimea loan, amounting together to one million five hundred thousand pounds, is due on the 24th April.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, May 7th.
In the Senate appointed a third committee of conference on the deficiency bill, the two former being unable to agree.
Mr Bayard introduced a bill to provide for the efficiency of the Navy. Adjourned.
In the House committee of conference on the deficiency bill had failed to agree, and offered to discharge the managers on the part of the House, and recommended the House to adhere to its amendments and its disagreements to those of the Senate.
Mr Humphrey Marshall suggested that it would be better to maintain the conference than by the adoption of the resolution run the risk of losing the bill.
Mr Cobb of Georgia was unwilling to take the extreme measures recommended, without knowing the points of difference between the joint committee of conference. He wanted the House to declare on each separate amendment, whether they will stop the wheels of government by rejecting the bill.
Mr Stanton said the principal difficulties were relative to the amendments of $180,000 for the Washington Water Works. He was willing to lose the bill, unless the Senate recede from their amendments. This system of deficiencies was an evil which threatens to throw into the hands of the executive all the power of the government. He wanted the President to exhibit proof of good faith that the laws are faithfully and honestly executed.
Mr McMullen said Mr Stanton had, by the expert character of his remarks done the greatest injustice to the government. He was surprised and mortified with the exhibition of the partisan in the gentleman from Ohio. He replied at length in proof of his assertion.
Mr Cobb of Georgia wanted to know the specific points on which it was threatened to defeat the bill. Let its opponents face the responsibility without covering up their hostility with generalities.
Mr Grow condemned the appendage by the Senate of incongruous amendments to deficiency bills. The city of vote these supplies, else you stop the wheels of government and ceased to alarm. He was willing to take the responsibility.
Mr Campbell of Ohio defended the course of the committee of Ways and Means relative to the appropriation items.
Mr. Giddings wished to know whether Mr Campbell was aware that the appropriation of $27,000 for expenses of the judiciary was to pay for the reclamation of fugitive slaves.
Mr. Campbell took it for granted that the money was for the necessary execution of the laws. If any law is odious to the people, modify or repeal it. He should aid the Executive to practically carry out his oath to support the constitution.
Mr. Giddings did not deny the duty of the Executive to enforce the laws, but denied that the President of the Southern districts of Ohio had the right to squander the public funds, by employing 460 special Deputy Marshalls in Cincinnatti, to return fugitive slaves to Ky.—He would sooner die in the committee room than grant it.
Mr. Campbell—I understand my colleague that he agrees with me as to the duty of the President to execute the laws including the fugitive slave act to which he and I am opposed.
Mr. Giddings—If I were President I would imitate Jefferson. If an unconstitutional law were on the statute book, I would treat it as such.
Mr. Campbell dissented from Mr. Giddings, and said, if the position taken by the latter were adopted, namely, that the President should assume judicial functions, and decide on the constitutionality of laws, independently of the Supreme Court, there would be but one step further for him to take to become a despot; that is to assume the powers of legislation.

American Tract Society.

NEW YORK, May 7.
At the meeting of the American Tract Society, held to-day, a resolution appointing a committee of investigation was after a long discussion passed, nearly unanimously, but not until every imputation upon the integrity of the Executive Committee was disavowed. All the old officers were re-elected unanimously, and a ballot for an Executive committee is now going forward.

ARNOLD'S COMBINED

FOOT-STOVE, LANTERN, AND NURSE-LAMP.

ALBERT NOYES having purchased the exclusive right for manufacturing and vending in Penobscot county, the above valuable invention is now prepared to offer them to the public

As a FOOT STOVE, it answers all the excellent purpose, as it can be sufficiently heated in less than one minute to warm and dry the feet in the coldest winter weather, and will be found to be an indispensable article in traveling. It is heated by an oil alcohol, or fluid lamp, the flame of which is protected from every external object.

As a LANTERN, it answers all the usual purposes, and is less likely to be upset, or get broken, and can be used as a house lamp with equal advantage

As a NURSE LAMP, and in cases of sickness, it is of great advantage in keeping drinks or medicines warm, beside giving the light desired, and for cooking in small quantities For making tea, &c it will be found very convenient, as a quart of water can be boiled in fifteen minutes, and a flat-iron heat in the same length of time.

In fact, the various purposes to which this neat apparatus can be put may be readily conjectured by everyone. No further description is required, as no one can misunderstand its general utility To say any thing more respecting its adaptability to a hundred purposes would just be telling what our readers can all see at once for themselves.
